

Andrew I. Roth-Wells

Government Relations Liaison

aroth-wells@preti.com

207.623.5300

Andrew is a Government Relations Liaison in the firm's Augusta, Maine, office. He supports the firm's Government Affairs Practice Group and our Maine Legislative Team by monitoring and lobbying bills before the legislature, tracking issues of client interest, and reporting on budgetary proceedings.

Prior to joining Preti Flaherty, Andrew served as Elections Coordinator for the Maine Department of the Secretary of State, Special Assistant to the state Attorney General, and Chief of Staff for both the Maine House Majority Office and Maine State Senate Majority Office. He has held key advocacy positions at several health care–related organizations, as well as supervisory and supporting roles in numerous State and U.S. Senate campaigns.

Andrew is a graduate of the Syracuse University Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs and Bowdoin College. A native Mainer, he lives in Georgetown, Maine, with his wife and two children.

Education

- Syracuse University (M.A., 1996)
 - Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs
 - Sociology
- Bowdoin College (B.A., cum laude, 1993)
 - Sociology

Civic and Charitable Activities

- Georgetown Historical Society
 - Board Member, 2010 – 2016
 - VP of Operations, 2010-2012
- Emerge Maine, Board Member, January 2012 – January 2014

Services

- Government Affairs
- Maine Legislative Team

News

January 2, 2020

Preti Flaherty Welcomes Government Relations Liaison Andrew I. Roth-Wells to the Firm