Laura Lee is a member of Preti Flaherty's Environmental and Litigation Practice Groups in the firm's Portland office, where she focuses her growing practice on large-scale environmental and general litigation matters. Working in concert with the firm's multidisciplinary teams, Laura Lee conducts dynamic case-related research, assisting with discovery analysis; drafting and filing pleadings, motions, agreements, and other key documents; and providing comprehensive and strategic counsel to clients throughout every stage of trial.

Prior to joining Preti Flaherty, Laura Lee held a federal clerkship in the U.S. District Court in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She is a graduate of Harvard Law School, the University of Pennsylvania, and Montclair State University. During law school, she served as an intern at the U.S. Department of Education and was a summer associate at a law firm in New York. Before attending law school, she was an intern at a commercial litigation law firm in Philadelphia.

Laura Lee lives in North Yarmouth, Maine.
